

Indian American Center for Political Awareness

Home

Updated on 12 December, 2006

IACPA II Candidates II Staffers II Immigration II Many Faces of Outsourcing
 Delhi Durbar II Diplomacy II Honors II Civil Rights II On the Hill II Election 2004
 H1-B Visa II Profiling II Capitol Journal II Miscellaneous II Organizations
 After Nov.2 II Newsmakers II Census Bureau II Review 2004 II
 Tsunamis Kill 125,000 And Still Counting II
 Capitol Debate II Under 30 II AAHOA Legislative Summit II
 Medical Malpractice Insurance II This Week II Obituary II IndiaConnect-USA II
 2005 AAHOA Annual Convention And Trade Show II British Election II
 Elections 2006 II Topic Of The Week II Washington Leadership Program II
 Architecture II NYC Elections II A Story From Iraq II United Nations II U.S. Census II
 Special Report II NYC Diwali Legislation II Homeland Security II

Elavia is Gateway Security CEO

Kurus Elavia has been appointed CEO of the Newark, New Jersey-based Gateway Security Inc., a privately-held firm that provides premium security and customer relationship services to some of the region's largest healthcare facilities, many Fortune 50 companies and international management firms.

Prior to his promotion, Elavia was the Chief Operating Officer (COO) of the firm. Ever since he joined the firm as a security officer 18 years ago, Elavia, who has a graduate degree in business from Bombay University, has worked his way steadily up the ranks.

"Kurus Elavia is a proven executive with an exceptional blend of strategic, analytical business and leadership skills," said Lou Dell'Ermo, chairman and founder of Gateway Security Inc.

"I am honored and excited to lead Gateway Security. I look forward to building on the success and working with our outstanding leadership team and Board of Directors," said Elavia.

(Compiled from a press release by C. Isaac)

---

Copyright © 2001-2006, Indian American Center for Political Awareness. All rights reserved.

Outsourcing

Immigration

Hate Crimes

H-1B Visa

South Asian

Candidates

IACPA's 10th

Anniversary

Media Talk

Census 2000

Archives